CHAPTER-I

Legislative Background and Organisational Set up.

Legislative background

1.1 Agricultural income was included in the Seventh Schedule (Entry) 41) to the Government of India Act, 1935. As a result, a separate provincial levy on agricultural income became possible for the first time. The system of allocation of agricultural income tax to the States remained unchanged under the Constitution of India which incorporated the same provisions in list II (i.e. State List) in its Seventh Schedule (Entry 46, Taxes on Agricultural Income).

After Agricultural Income was transferred to the provincial list, the Government of Bihar was the first to levy tax on agricultural income in 1938, followed by Assam which enacted the Assam Agricultural Income-tax Act in the year 1939. Levy of agricultural Income-tax in Assam is based on and regulated by the aforesaid Act and the Rules framed thereunder. The Act came into effect from the 1st of April, 1939 and it shall apply to all agricultural income derived from land situated in the State of Assam.

Organisational Set up

1.2 The Government of Assam in the Finance (Taxation) Department administers the provisions of the Acts and the Rules mentioned above through the Commissioner of Taxes, Assam who is the head of the Department. Under the Commissioner of Taxes, there are deputy Commissioner, Assistant Commissioner, Assistant Commissioner (Appeals), and Superintendent of Taxes/Agricultural Income-Tax Officer, last of whom are the assessing authorities.

CHAPTER – 10

Checks exercised by Audit

10.1 As regards Agricultural Income tax assessment and refunds, it is necessary for Audit to satisfy itself by test-checks that the departmental procedure adequately provides for and secures -

(i) Collection and utilisation of data necessary for computation of demands or refunds under the law;
(ii) Prompt raising of demands on the assessee;
(iii) Regular accounting of demands, collections and refunds, and their proper credit or debit, as the case may be, to government account;
(iv) That proper safeguards exists against willful omission to levy or collect taxes or to issue refunds;
(v) That claims on taxpayers are pursued with due diligence and are not abandoned or reduced except with adequate justification and proper authority;
(vi) Prompt detection and investigation of double refunds, fraudulent or forged refund orders or other losses of revenue through fraud, default or mistake,

It should also be seen that there is a proper system of periodic survey to ensure that all the persons liable to pay tax under the laws are brought on record of the assessing authority. Adequacy of the system and its proper observance should be checked with reference to relevant records and registers.

Co-ordination of audit with Income tax receipt audit.

10.2 Since an assessee under the Agricultural Income tax laws, may also be liable to pay Income tax, co-ordination is necessary between inspection parties auditing Income tax and those auditing Agricultural Income tax for correlation of the income returned by the assesses for different purposes. In the case of big assessment cases such correlation should be made by Revenue Audit (Headquarters) Wing.
In the case of tea companies, close correlation between two sets of assessment orders (i.e., assessment under the Income-tax Act and that under Agricultural Income tax Act) is very important. In the Income-tax assessment some income being agricultural in nature may be assessed to tax. But it is possible that the Agricultural Income tax office did not treat that very income as agricultural income for the purpose of his assessment.

Audit checks

10.3 While scrutinising the assessments, reassessments and rectifications the following checks are required to be exercised-

(i) Whether agricultural income as returned by the assessee has been correctly considered in assessment and no income although returned has escaped assessment;

(ii) Whether computation of tax has been made at the rates prescribed in the relevant Assam Finance Act and whether the computation is arithmetically correct;

(iii) In the cases of assessments of tea companies it should be seen that agricultural income as determined and left over by the Income-tax officer under the Income Tax Act has been taken in assessment by the Agricultural Income Tax Officer (A.I.T.O.);

(iv) Whether a certified copy of the income tax assessment has been filled by the assessee or obtained by the A.I.T.O.;

(v) Whether any agricultural income such as sale proceeds of green tea leaves, citronella grass etc. left over in the income-tax assessment has been taken in assessment by the A.I.T.O.;

(vi) That deductions specially allowable from business income under the Income Tax Act has not been wrongly allowed by the A.I.T.O. in agricultural income-tax assessment;

(vii) Arithmetical accuracy of the Income-tax assessment order itself may be checked to see whether the profit shown in the Profit of Loss Account has been correctly taken in that assessment. Various additions and deductions made therein which affect the agricultural income may also be seen;
(viii) Whether allowances and deduction in respect of cost of cultivation and other expenditure allowed by the Agricultural Income-tax Officer are correct as per provisions of the Act and Rules;

(ix) Where allowance of any deduction is dependent on fulfillment of certain condition or on production of proof, whether the assessee fulfilled the conditions and furnished evidence or proof;

(x) Whether depreciation has been allowed correctly and at correct rate(s);

(xi) Whether deduction on account of life insurance premia paid by the assessee has been correctly allowed under Section 15 of the Act;

(xii) Whether compensation from Insurance Company for loss of agricultural income tax has been included in the taxable income (Rules 8);

(xiii) Where an assessee has been allowed to carry forward and set off losses sustained by him in earlier years against his income of current years, it should be seen whether the assessee filed his loss return within the time prescribed in Section 19 (1) of the Act of the Act and whether the carry forward exceeded the time limit prescribed in Section 16 (2) of the Act;

(xiv) Whether demand notice has been promptly issued to an actually served on the assessee;

(xv) Whether refunds, if any, have been correctly allowed after verification of the original payment of tax and on the orders of the appropriate authority (Rule 24 to 26 of A.A.I.T. Rules);

(xvi) Whether entries made in the daily Collection register have been reconciled with the entries in Treasury Receipt Schedule;

(xvii) Whether all demands for tax assessed during a periods have duly been entered in the Demand register and with a cross verification of the Collection register. Cases of collections pending since considerable period may be isolated, examined individually and reasons for which pending analysed and highlighted;
(xviii) Whether the department has initiated timely action for recoveries through bakijai proceedings in the cases where tax has remained unpaid for unduly long time and normal prescribed departmental actions have proved futile.

(xix) The position of recoveries against cases referred to the bakijai officer may be examined and unusual features in individual cases, if any, brought out for comments.
CHAPTER-11

The following registers are maintained by the Agricultural Income-tax officer.

CHAPTER-12

Audit of internal controls

12. Audit will see that the internal procedures adequately secure correct and regular accounting of demands, collection and refunds, that no amounts due to Government remain outstanding in its books without sufficient reason and that the claims are pursued with due diligence and are not abandoned or reduced except with adequate justification with proper authority.

The most important function of Audit and the area of audit concern in relation to assessment and refunds is to satisfy itself, by such test check as it may consider necessary, that internal procedures adequately provide for and actually ensure:

(i) the collection and utilisation of date necessary for the computation of the demand or refund under law.
(ii) That the computation and realization of tax are in accordance with the applicable tax laws.
(iii) The prompt raising of demands on tax payers in the manner required by law.
(iv) The regular accounting of demands, collections and refunds.

(vi) That adequate control and monitoring mechanisms have been devised to prevent loss or leakage of revenue.
(vii) That there has not been any loss or leakage of revenue on account of lacunae or loopholes in the rules framed for the purpose or an account of avoidable delays in the issue of the necessary notifications and orders.
(viii) That double refunds, fraudulent or forged refund orders or other losses of revenue through fraud, default or errors are promptly brought to light and investigated.
(ix) That claims of tax payers are pursued with due diligence and are not abandoned or reduced except with adequate justification and proper authority.
that cases pending in courts of law or before appellate authorities have been pursued adequately ad appeals, whenever justified or considered necessary, have been filed within the period of limitation.
